Credit Card Acceptance for Businesses

Businesses pay for their customer's rewards programs

- The cost of accepting credit cards continues to rise every year.
- Credit card reward programs are a big contributor to high processing costs.
- The more robust the rewards program, the more you pay to accept the card.
- How can you lower costs, keep it fair for your customers, and stay fully compliant?

Reward Pay We have you covered

- ZERO-COST: Reward Pay's proprietary technology allows you to pass a small fee on every credit card transaction, making your cost zero.
 - FAIR: Customers have the option to pay with a debit card and not pay the fee, you pay the cost to accept debit cards.
 - FULLY COMPLIANT: Reward Pay meets the requirements for all card types to ensure compliance.
